FAILURES

*I originally named this section “struggles” because I am working to improve in these areas. They are, nonetheless, failures of mine at times. Since this document is literally my Curriculum Vitae or “course of life”, I share my hills (accomplishments) as well as my valleys (failures). This section is, in reality, much longer than the other.

Self-absorbed.

Yet striving to be the best wife, mother, daughter, friend, economist, and teacher that I can be, knowing that I will fail, and learn, and fail and learn, each day.

Ungrateful.

And striving to be more thankful and merciful. When facing hurdles, I want my first response not to be disdain or contempt, but gratitude (for the lesson) and openness to new avenues.

Empty Conceit.

And striving to let go. I hold on to tasks as my own; am unable to delegate; think that my way is best. “...with humility of mind regard one another as more important than yourselves.” Phil 2:3

Impatient.

And striving to be a better listener. I want to listen well; I want to be slow to speak.

Unloving.

And seeking eyes to see, ears to hear, and a heart that loves.

“He must increase, but I must decrease.” John 3:30
